Our Weekly Whakatauki

Ki te kotahi te kākaho, ka whati; ki te kāpuia, e kore e whati.

If a reed stands alone, it can be broken; if it is in a group, it cannot.

When we stand alone we are vulnerable, but together we are unbreakable.

Last night I had a lovely phone call from a coach. Who wanted to say how impressed she was with her team and what lovely students they were. This particular coach said her team turned up early ready to go, were attentive, great at listening, gave it 100% in every drill and were willing make the improvements necessary. She even said they all thanked her and asked if there was anything else needed doing before they left. To that team thank you so much. Thank you for setting an example to other teams and highlighting it is the simple values and respect that your coach's are seeking from you. Look forward to hearing some more great stories from other coaches throughout the year.
